

 BOULDER
SPECIAL

Following the increasing significance and expansion of boulder climbing in the last years we decided to create a dedicated brand for boulder holds and volumes and this is how Boulder Special came to be.

Boulder climbing itself has evolved and changed in recent years from sheer power movements to explosive, dynamic moves. This transition on its part lead to the necessity for bigger holds and volumes which quite often require a full body participation and control in overcoming the problems.

In our new brand we will be offering holds and volumes, that will satisfy both styles of problem-setting on the indoor boulder walls. There are small and tiny holds or very hard slopers, which will squeeze out and test to the max the finger strength of the hard-core climbers and also big volumes for the fun-loving boulderers. Having in mind the need, that some time occurs in boulder-setting - for placing of the holds on very specific spots where there are no t-nuts – we have made all holds with 2 or more screw holes which makes all holds and volumes- screw-on when necessary.

The sets of holds are grouped in styles according to their artistic design. Each style containing approximately between 50 and 70 holds/volumes.

Some of the styles are shaped with our new type of surface finishing: X-GRIP – which improves greatly the friction and the grip of these holds.

We are now starting with 200 shapes and a lot more are coming out of the mold department very soon!

INSTINCT

Simple and elegant shapes, that seem to float on the wall. But if you want to float too – you will have to sweat “a little bit” ;-)
