POLYURETHANE (PU)

The polyurethane that HITO HOLDS uses in the production of holds, is very abrasion resistant, more strong and impact resistant.

With this formulation, we have made the rock tact equal in typical old resin holds with mineral fillers, making it impossible to differentiate once bolted to the wall, but also achieving a surface hardness, twice, prolonging life thereof.

DUAL FIXING SYSTEM

The holds consist of 2 types of fixing, the central screw torque with the allen screw and in case of inability to place the central, one anti-ñtxist screw.

The increase versatility of the holds and facilitate the griping, especially in competition.

- 1. ALLEN BOLT
- 2. WOOD SCREW

HOLLOWBACK

All of our big holds have hollow back system.

¿What differences are to hollow back system o not hollow?

There are many positive reasons why we believe in this system:

- It reduces its weight almost twice, so the facilities where holds are placed will be more durable in time.
- Easy handling for equipment, without having to carry heavy weights.
- We reduce your price, due to large amount of material we save.
- And finally and most importantly, we generate less waste, thus having same holds with much less material.

MACRO MATERIAL

The bodies of our macros are made from 100% recycled thermoplast material which is very strong and durable.

The texture is smooth, abrasion resistant and all macros are available as dualtex or non-dualtex version. Washers are also built in already.
